THE EPIPHANY OF THE LORD

4 January 2026

YEAR A

#01.26

Revelation

The reading opens with a twofold summons: 'Arise!' 'Shine!' Called out of darkness, the illumination into which Jerusalem emerges is not merely the light of a new day, a new era of peace and prosperity. It is the very light of God; it is the glory of the Lord. Other nations will witness the glory of the Lord as it is revealed through the salvation of this people. The light they provide for others is really the radiance of God's glory. That glory is in fact the manifestation of Jerusalem's deliverance. Thus, Jerusalem's redemption enables others to behold and to walk in God's light. This is why it is told to 'Arise and shine forth!'

The second reading insists that in Christ the Gentiles are co-heirs, co-members and co-partners with the Jews. What qualifies one as an heir is life in the Spirit of Christ and not natural generation into a particular national group. All belong to the body of Christ, not the bloodline of Abraham. The promise at the heart of the gospel is the promise of universal salvation through Christ, not that of descendants and prosperity in a particular land. The Gentiles are co-heirs precisely as Gentiles and not as initiates who have come to Christ through the faith of Israel. The one thing necessary is to be 'in Christ'. This is a radical insight for a church with Jewish roots and traditions.

The Three Kings or Wise Men were astrologers who studied the heavens in search of the meaning of human life. The gospel account is a haggadah, a Jewish story fashioned from diverse biblical material intended to make a theological point. The author of this account probably provided theological explanation of an actual astral phenomenon. Lest the astrological details lead us to believe that the birth was a myth, he then situates it squarely in time and place: the reign of Herod, Bethlehem and Jerusalem. The anonymous men come out of obscurity and return to obscurity. All we know is that they were not Israelite, and this is the whole point of the story. The child draws Jew and Gentile alike.
